National Preservation Week

Step Up to the Plate during the American Library Association’s National Preservation Week. Pass it On: Saving Heritage and Memories (May 9-15) and celebrate two American institutions – baseball and libraries.

Recognizing the critical role libraries play in preservation, ALA in partnership with the Library of Congress and the Institute of Museum and Library Services is launching National Preservation Week. Pass it On: Saving Heritage and Memories. It is the first national campaign targeting preservation awareness for the general public. At the same time, the fifth season of the Step Up to the Plate initiative celebrates the Baseball Hall of Fame’s role as a collecting museum and library in the preservation of our national pastime.

A quick check of the OPAC shows that Rodgers Memorial Library has books, audio books, & DVDs on the subject of baseball – type in baseball in the search window. Rodgers Memorial Library also has many books on the subject of “preservation”, “memorabilia”, “collectables.”

Author Talk – June 3: Sara Backer, author of the mystery American Fuji
Hollis NH author Sara Backer was the first American and first woman to serve as a Visiting Professor at Japan's national Shizuoka University. She will share her experiences living in Japan as part of her presentation on her mystery American Fuji. The book is about an American professor recently fired from the Japanese university where she had been teaching, and the father of an American exchange student who died at the university under mysterious circumstances. These two characters investigate the death of the student while navigating the cultural barriers of a foreign land. The talk will be at 7 p.m. on Thursday, June 3. There will be books available for purchase and signing by the author. This book is also the topic of the library's monthly book discussion, on Tuesday, June 15 at 1:30.

Book Bingo – June 11
Bingo lovers, come play for a chance to win hot titles. Friday, June 11, 12:30-2 p.m.

Organize Your Life: The Paper Jungle & Inherited Items - What Do You Need To Keep? June 15
We bring back Sue West, Certified Professional Organizer, who presented Downsizing, Organize, Simplify! in January this year. Sue will cover two challenging topics in depth for us in this one hour talk. Papers, papers, everywhere ... and what to do with inherited items? The paper jungle. Do you ever feel as if papers have taken over the kitchen counter, the dining room table, or your desk at home? And when friends come over, do you do the "big swoop" picking up the papers and moving them somewhere, anywhere -- only to realize you'll have to get back to them at some point. Don't know what to do with the "unsure of" pile?
Our talk will give you a practical set of steps you can use to reduce or even eliminate your paper piles.
Inherited items. how do we honor the legacy of someone who has died and yet not keep everything we inherited or which the person left behind. Here we will talk about specific strategies you can use at home to figure out your answer to this question.

Paper Techniques Workshops First Thursdays
Learn how to make all kinds of things out of paper at the monthly Paper Techniques workshop at the Rodgers Memorial Library. The workshops will be held the first Thursday of each month with two sessions, 2:30–4 p.m. or 7–8:30 p.m. The May 6 workshop is Domino Art, making jewelry with dominos, the 7 p.m. session is full but we are taking names for the waiting list. The June 3 workshop is making paper beads. These workshops are open to teens and adults. Please pre-register for each workshop at 886-6030.

Drop-in Stitchers Every Friday
Drop by the Community Room Fridays from 10 a.m.—Noon with your knitting, crocheting, cross-stitching or any needlework project. Work on your project with company to pass the time, share ideas and techniques for future projects.

Book Discussions – Third Tuesdays @ 1:30 p.m.
The library holds book discussions on the third Tuesday of the month at 1:30. On May 18 we will be discussing The Camel Bookmobile by Masha Hamilton, about an American woman who travels to Kenya to bring library books to remote villages, a story of the clash of western values and traditional ways. On June 15 we will be reading American Fuji by Hollis NH author Sara Backer, a mystery set in Japan, where two Americans go up against the local bureaucracy to find out the true behind the death of an American exchange student. Author Sara Backer will be giving a talk on the book and her experiences as a University professor in Japan at the library on Thursday, June 3 at 7 p.m. Books are available at the Circulation Desk.
