Author Visit: Being Santa Claus
Monday, November 25, 7PM

Professional Santa Sal Lizard will be visiting to talk about his book Being Santa Claus: What I Learned About the True Meaning of Christmas. Sal has been playing Santa Claus for over two decades, and in that time he’s had countless magical experiences with children, adults and people everywhere who share in the wonder of the holiday spirit. Now, for the first time, Santa Sal’s amazing stories have been collected into a hardcover book that you can share with the people you love. Follow the career of this naturally bearded Santa from his earliest encounters wearing the red suit through the many lessons he’s learned along the way about how to be the best possible Santa Claus. Sal will have books for sale and signing.

Please note this program is not intended for young children. Santa will be visiting as Santa on Saturday, December 7.

followed by a skywatch with telescopes in the soccer field between the library and Hills Garrison. Bring a telescope if you have one, or look through one of the telescopes provided by NHAS members as experienced skywatchers guide you in exploring the night sky.

Check out the library’s telescope and have your own personal look at the sky. Holds may also be placed on the telescope (as with all library materials!) online, by phone or in person. To place an online hold, you’ll need your library card number and PIN.

Gingerbread House Contest
House Dropoff: December 2-6

People of all ages are encouraged to enter our annual gingerbread house competition. Individuals, families or other groups are eligible to enter. Houses can be built out of any material, but exterior decoration must be entirely edible. Houses must fit on a platform of 24” x 24” or less. The houses will be on display in the Children’s Room until the Gingerbread Party and Prize Ceremony on December 19th.

Baked Beans and Fried Clams: How Food Defines a Region
Wednesday, December 4, 7PM

Baked beans, fried clams, fish chowder, Indian pudding - so many foods are distinctive to New England. This talk offers a celebration of these regional favorites along with an examination of how contemporary life has distanced us from these classics. What makes them special and how do these foods define our region? Yankee Magazine’s Edie Clark draws from such diverse resources as Fannie Farmer, Julia Child and Haydn S. Pearson for enlightenment and amusement as well as her own experiences writing and traveling over the past thirty years to places where baked beans are still featured prominently on the menu.

This program is made possible by a grant from the NH Humanities Council.

ABCs of the Affordable Care Act
Monday, December 9, 12PM (noon)

Confused about the new changes in healthcare laws? Want to know how to navigate the Health Insurance Marketplace and find out what insurance programs you qualify for? A trained volunteer from the AARP will be here to provide information on the new Health Insurance Marketplace for people of all ages and try to answer any questions you may have. Feel free to bring a bag lunch to this afternoon program.

Christmas Floral Centerpiece Workshop
Tuesday, December 10, 7PM

Create a beautiful centerpiece for your holiday table with this workshop, presented by Anne’s Florals and Gifts of Hudson. The centerpiece will be made out of long lasting materials, so you can use it for this year’s celebration.

There will be a $25 materials fee for this workshop, and pre-registration is required. Register online or call 886-

All of December

There will be an opening reception for the exhibit on Tuesday, December 3 from 6:30-8:30PM. Meet the featured photographers and share in some light refreshments. All are welcome.

Hills 3rd Thursday: Feasts and Festivals of the Middle Ages
Thursday, December 19, 6PM

Why do religious holidays cluster around the winter time and patriotic ones in the summer? Why can't Easter or Hanukkah fall on the same date every year? Do our cherished holiday traditions preserve memories of a distant pagan past? Medieval historian Jonathan Couser takes us on a guided tour of the calendar to discuss how the year took on its rhythm of workdays and holidays.

The Trustees of the Rodgers Memorial Library present monthly open house programs at the historic Hills Memorial Library building, 18 Library St.
